Odessa (Nite Jewel Remix)

Caribou

Taking it slow, saving up she
Before she knows it, all I ask before she goes home
She's tired of cryin' and sick of his lies
She's suffered him for far too many years of her lifeFeeling low, and scared that he'll say
Do you know how over time you drove her away
Saving up for, the day when she goes
The day that she stands up
For everything that she chose(She can say, she can say, she can say
She can say, she can say, she can say
Who knows what shes gonna say)Saving up for, the day when she goes
The day that she stands up
For everything that she chose
Takin' the kids, drivin' away
Turn around the life she let him siphon awayAnd I've been with you, for all of these years
Tell you what I've got to show for all of my tears
The times you hurt me, and treated me wrong
Something had to give to stop this thing from going on(She can say, she can say, she can say
She can say, she can say, she can say
Who knows what shes gonna say)(She can say, she can say, she can say
She can say, she can say, she can say
Who knows what shes gonna say)She's tired of crying, and sick of his lies
She's suffered him for far too many years of her life
And feeling low, and scared that he'll say
Do you know how over time you drove her away
