

Remember to Breathe

Owen Campbell

Take a moment to breath in
The wind is blowing and I'm feeling kinda lost
With every step that you're taking
I miss you even more

As the sun starts to go down and I wish you were here with me right now
The cold air surrounds me tonight
If I can ever find my way out of here...
If I can take away all these years
We will never know

I will wait for you all night
I will wait in the cold until the morning light...
Finally it feels I'm doing something right

(instrumental)

Just remember to breath in Make each moment last before moving on These seconds past before you realize they're gone

I feel like I'm chasing you around but you don't want ever to be found
At least for now I'll keep you warm tonight

I will wait for you all night
I will wait in the cold until the morning light...
Finally it feels I'm doing something right

I am stuck out here, buried in the snow
Without a path to lead me to where I need to go
When the wind calms down I'll hear your voice
It will get me through the night
It will get me through the night

Just remember to breathe in The snow is falling but you're here to keep me warm
