

Water Bottle

Pacific Resonance

My throat tightens as we speak a water bottle helping me but i know, it won't help for long

I look and see your empty sheets visualize them over me and your skin lost happily god gave me an angel so I could learn just what I didn't know and he said son don't let true love be lost

Well I gave you a part of me and you gave me what I was missing all the time,you gave me time carpet circles sing a song of people pacing back in forth in the dark leaving dents in your heart water bottle empty know but my hearts beginning to drown and I cried, oh god did I cry.

well you gave me a hold on love and I gave you the sky above but it just wasn't good enough for us and why does this happen to me and why can't I feel anything anymore I can't feel you anymore.

I hold you until I cry and in my mind I've already died and now it burns, to feel your skin on mine

I stand there still feeling hurt and i grab handfuls of your shirt and your back, I just can't let go

I scream louder as we cry and you die in a shoulder far and we lie, and say things will be alright well I can't stand the things that I do and of course I still miss you but it's to late, it's to late

I am just like anyone I want hope and I want love when your gone, I still want your love I must think I'm something big to say that I'll get over it cause i won't, I won't let this go

God gave me an angle so
