And all the squirrels are burying nuts before the winter hits

Clouds roll by and the rivers they run,

Underneath the sun

Rain falls down and waters the ground

The cherry tree, is forming buds for the blossom to come

And the tall pine tree towers above the saxifrage

Underneath the sun

Rain falls down and waters the ground

Where people are sure that everyone, Even little ones
And trains will be ringing an roll through the night to their destinations

What have we done

While rain falls down and waters the ground
