This Isn't the End

Colton Dixon

I know it hit you without warning
You weren't ready for letting go
Only left with questions out of hope
(Don't know where to go)
Every promise turned to heartache
In a moment you lost control
Try to ride this storm out on your own
(You are not alone)So don't fall back, keep fighting
Out of your ashes rising
I'm right here
I want you to knowThis isn't the end
It's a chance to start again
When the smoke clears, you'll be home
This isn't the end
It's a war you're gonna win
Out of the fire, a new life begins
This isn't the endThere's a pain that makes you stronger
There's a faith that holds you close
Don't be afraid to let your weakness show
(You're not made of stone)One chapter, sinks lower
But your story isn't over
I'm right here
I want you to knowThis isn't the end
It's a chance to start again
When the smoke clears, you'll be home
This isn't the end
It's a war you're gonna win
Out of the fire, a new life begins
This isn't the endThis isn't, this isn't the end
This isn't, this isn't the end
This isn't, this isn't the end
This isn't, this isn't the endThis isn't, this isn't the end
This isn't, this isn't the end
This isn't, this isn't the end
This isn't, this isn't the endSo don't fall back, keep fighting
Out of your ashes rising
I'm right here
I want you to knowThis isn't the end
It's a chance to start again

When the smoke clears you'll be home
This isn't the end
It's a war you're gonna win
Out of the fire
A new life begins
This isn't the end
