

Different World (Single Version)

INXS

Looking for an answer
You've got to start somewhere
Sooner or later
Well, you've got to show something I wasn't feelin' too good
And this is all I have
Would you take it from me?
The future's uncertain, but I feel no pain It's a different world
But the heat's the same
Head to New York city
Do you know my name? Since I'm needed
What more could I ask for?
Oh baby, there's something
One day I might get there Out of the red
And into the blue
You know there's something
Burning deep inside you And now I'm doing so well
Look at all I have
Would you take it from me?
The future's uncertain but I feel no pain It's a different world
But the heat's the same
And head to New York city
Yeah, you know my name
Know my name It's a different jungle
But the heat's the same
Head to New York city
Yeah, you know my name
Know my name Looking for an answer
Well, you've got to start somewhere
Sooner or later
Well, you've got to show something Out of the red
Into the blue
Anywhere you go
Burning deep inside you And I'm doing so well
Look at all I have
Would you take it from me?
The future's uncertain but I feel no pain It's a different world
But the heat's the same
Head to New York city
Yeah, you know my name

Know my nameIt's a different jungle
But the heat's the same
Head to New York city
Yeah, you know my name
Know my name
