Shrink The World

Yellowcard

If I could then I'd shrink the world tonight
So that I would find you and me insideA life in love, a picture of a place Im nowhere near
A bleeding heart, a good headstart to anywhere but here
Just let me out, please let me out before I turn into
A box of things reminding me how much I'm missing you
I am missing youIf I could then Id shrink the world tonight
So that I would find you and me inside
Of the last good scene, a film that changes things
Breaks us, makes us sing, leaves us wonderingAnd through the wall, my fists you call but then you always run
So what's it for? The love and war, it's only fair for some
You saved the girl, you saved the world, well, that's not true it seems
A lesson learned, speak out of turn, I bite my tongue, it bleeds
Bite my tongue, it bleedsIf I could then Id shrink the world tonight
So that I would find you and me inside
Of the last good scene, a film that changes things
Breaks us, makes us sing, leaves us wondering
Are you wondering?If I could then Id shrink the world tonight
So that I would find you and me inside
Of the last good scene, a film that changes things
Breaks us, makes us sing, leaves us wonderingIf I could shrink the world tonight
If I could shrink the world tonight
