

Villains

JOHNNYSWIM

You're hearing black, I'm saying white
You're turning loose, I'm holding tight
Backwards in the same direction
I'm in the wing, you're on the spot
I keep it cool, and you're quick to hot

Always ready for attention You take all the things that I say, and you hear them the wrong way
It's all of the things that you don't say, that's making my heartbreak Here we go again making villains out of lovers, lovers

Tearing down blue skies
Turning cloud nine into thunder, thunder
So complicated trying to love with ease
We're dodging arrows that we think we see
Here we go again making villains out of lovers, lovers, lovers
Ooo, out of each other I strike a match for dynamite
You throw a stone I pull a knife
And we both play the joker
Caught up in, this friendly fire
Wounded by, what we admire

What drives us crazy draws us closer You take all the things that I say, and you hear them the wrong way
It's all of the things that you don't say, that's making my heartbreak Here we go again making villains out of
lovers, lovers

Tearing down blue skies
Turning cloud nine into thunder, thunder
So complicated trying to love with ease
We're dodging arrows that we think we see
Here we go again making villains out of lovers, lovers, lovers
Ooo, out of each other Don't you wanna be my lover?

Here we go again making villains, out of lovers (Don't you wanna be my lover?) Here we go again making villains, out of lovers, lovers

Tearing down blue skies
Turning cloud nine into thunder, thunder
So complicated trying to love you with ease
Oh, we're dodging arrows that we think we see
Here we go again making villains out of lovers, lovers, lovers
Ooo, out of each other Oh babe, we'll find a way
I want to love you everyday
I don't want to throw this love away
I don't want to fight our love away

I don't want to fight this love away
Don't you wanna be my lover?
