

Will You Be My Lady

DJ Sancho

yeah come here bby yeah yeah why am i all dressed up? well check dis out ive been doing alot of thinkin lately and it all started the other day when i wouldnt sit down remember that bby?

listen this all started when i was at the store other day i saw this guy get on one knee and say to his grl .....my heart stopped right there when i saw the look on her face bby i swear she didnt even kno what to say she couldnt even breathe but her tears of happiness gave the answer away i witnessd the begginning of something so true and i wanna make you feel the same way bby to cuz its been so long that we have been together and i wanna take the next step and make it last forever i wan you to close your eyes while i reach into my pocket i got a surprise for you.

cuz i feel that its that time for you and me to shine with a token to show you how i feel girl wont you be mine can you feel my heart skip a beat just thinkin about you here with me to have you by my side every day and night for eternity girl will you be my lady its been three years til this day that it took for me to realize what ive been waiting to say for some reason the thought never crossed my mind i figured we would always be together til the end of time we use to talk about marriage every once in a while even thought of names for our first born child made plans of happiness and a family nothing would make me happier if this could be so take my hands bby and look into my eyes im trying my hardest mi amored not to cry just wanna let you that ive been thinking lately and i have one question for you

girl will you be mine and spend all the rest of time with your hand in mine and mine in yours til the day we die i would be the happiest man that ever lived to give anything i have bby i would give to be by your side evry day and night for eternity girl will you be my lady

mi amored te quero mucho
