A Realization of How It's Always Been

Moneen

please drag me away from this, I just don't want to go.
and I'm taking in everything and just want to know.
I've lost all direction and reason and seem so low
To everyone,everytime, only if they'd know.
NO, I will lay down dead here.
this feeling takes over again and it's over soon.
I'm driving away from this and still it looms.
It seeps into everything and can empty you.
No, I will lay down dead here.
Sincerity empties me and all I see is a realization of how it's always been.
Just take me away because it seems so bad.
Please end on this day, so I won't feel bad...again.
you said that I'd never relly forget this time
And I've known this before
