

My Protector

Hell Is For Heroes

You've been keeping your distance
 Infected as I am
I'll come wounded and careless
 Crawling back to you
Crumbling down under spotlights
 For I am weak like you
 Scent of placenta
We're heading back to the sourceThe houselights fade out
 A perfect warm death
 The worms have crawled in
And made us who we areRadio out
 Dancing to a silent tune
 Stand up and shout
 For all we are is innocent
 Turn the lights out
 This could be the final hour
And we're on timeI see hundreds of faces
 Staring back at me
 An armory of human shields
 To protect me from the truth
 The truth as I never told it
 For I'm a liar like you
 Nothing quite like a transplant
 To erase the past
