

Save Me

Sabrina Starke

Save me cause I lost my way. I'm searching for some meaning
Please forgive me from what's yet to come. Left here on my own
I sit here and I wonder how I landed in this storm
A whisper from a voice deep within. It's telling me to embrace these feelings
But I'm scared cause confusion is so paralyzing and the truth is I'm in need of healingMountaintops and valleys back and forth
Ease this troubled mind and soothe my heartSave me from this emptiness.
Save me bring me back where i belong.
Save me from emptiness and heartache
To a space where peace and love reigns
Bring me back where I belong
Bring me back where I belong
Bring me back where I belong
Standing at the dawn of an awakening after years of contemplating
All the tears I cried. I need courage to face the unrevealed in every corner of my soul
Will I ever find my inner gold. It's time for revelation
Cause I'm sick and tired of feeling sick and tired
Searching for the truth that is hidden. Lead me, bring me homeMountaintops and valleys back and forth
Ease this troubled mind and soothe my heartSave me from this emptiness.
Save me bring me back where i belong.
Save me from emptiness and heartache
To a space where peace and love reigns
Bring me back where I belong
Bring me back where I belong
Bring me back where I belong
Save me from my own.
Save me from this hell I'm in. Save me from this storm
After all that's said and done
I've been through it all
Save me from this storm
Bring me back to life
Bring me back to life
I said bring me back to life. Bring me back
I said bring me back to life. Bring me back
I said bring me back to life. Bring me back
I said bring me back to life. Bring me backSave me from this damn place
And save me from emptiness
Save me from this hell I'm in
Save me from this storm

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>