

Bright Matter

Sakia

Walking long towards the sun
I found myself inside a storm
Not blinded by the light
Was it the rain or the cold wind
Or the memories of our sins
Tears were flooding from within

Everyday I used to see
A picture of a perfect dream
Controlling everything
Everyday I used to see
A perfect human being

I have grown deformities
That are built of memories
Pills or doctors can't erase
Like the tattoos on you skin
Persistent memories come with pain
Again and again

Be relentless like the sun
Cause this life's your only one
This is where you belong
It's like the air, it's everywhere,
And you will learn to inhale

Hey, hey, did you know?
Me and you, we all are beautiful
What you did or said
Should not be fuelling your pointless regrets
Hey, hey, hey, hey, make yourself a star
Refuse to play the walk-on part
Let's make it a long, not lonesome, time
It's your turn to shine

Laying bricks, building a wall
Are we so different after all?
Feeling like a bouncing ball
Are we humans with a soul?
Or are we fishes in a bowl?

With our bodies made of gold

Be relentless like the sun
Cause this life's your only one
This is where you belong
It's like the air, it's everywhere,
And you will learn to inhale

Hey, hey, did you know?
Me and you, we all are beautiful
What you did or said
Should not be fuelling your pointless regrets
Hey, hey, hey, hey, make yourself a star
Refuse to play the walk-on part
Let's make it a long, not lonesome, time
It's your turn to shine
