

Armour Love

La Roux

You pull on your armor
And put up defenses
Why do you want to?
Because I'm here to protect you
So take it easy
I'll make it so easy
You can lay your head down
And we'll leave it 'til tomorrow You seem to believe you belong to somebody else
When you leave me alone in this world you know that I'm in hell
Do you know what it's like to be lonely and by yourself? When your life is tangled
You wear your disguises
But why do you need to
When I'm standing here beside you?
So take it easy
I'll make it so easy You can lay your head down
And we'll leave it 'til tomorrow You seem to believe you belong to somebody else
When you leave me alone in this world you know that I'm in hell
Do you know what it's like to be lonely and by yourself? Slipping through my fingers
And into another's
Tell me why won't you turn back? You seem to believe you belong to somebody else
(You know what it's like, you shouldn't have to be told)
When you leave me alone in this world you know that I'm in hell
(It's not enough and you are running away)
When you know what it's like to be lonely and by your-self? [repeat 2x]
