So Complicated

Noisettes

Why am I weary
And why does my head feel so light?
Should I tear up the letters signed
From my black knight who thrills me?
If love doesn't kill me
I'll be lonely as a king with everything
Wild as a flower
True love carries on anywhere
Out of the concrete or from window ledges
Tell them we could be building
Something out of our despair
Don't make this so complicated
So complicated
I did not mean to keep you waiting
But I still want your love
I miss your touch
I squandered my daydreams
Don't tell me, I already know
Something so beautiful and chilled to the bone
I could have killed him, I'd tell the children
Send your heart out for repair
Don't make this so complicated
So complicated
I did not mean to keep you waiting
But I still want your love
I miss your touch
Don't make this so complicated
It's getting so complicated
I didn't mean to frustrate you
But I still want your love
Guess I miss your touch
Still want your love
I miss your touch
Still want your love
Ooh baby, I miss your touch
Don't make it so complicated
'Cause it's getting so complicated
I did not mean to frustrate you
But I still want your love

And I miss your touch
It's getting so complicated
Oh so complicated
Suddenly you and me
I still want your love
That special touch
