Out of the Blue

Babel Fish

Just when you thought
You'd run out of date and time
And just when I felt
Like you'd been out of your mind
Sensing defeat under your skin
A door opens up so you walk right inAnd out of the blue
You're out of the agony
You're out of this world
Right where you ought to be
Out of the blue
Nothing can get to youFilled up with doubt
'bout losing integrity
Filled with lost faith
In moving instinctively
Out of control, out of thin air
Something comes up and just take you thereAnd out of the blue...Just when you thought
You couldn't win
A door opens up so you walk right inAnd out of the blue...
