

Bronte

Gotye

Now your bowl is empty
And your feet are cold
And your body cannot stop rocking
I know
It hurts to let go Since the day we found you
You have been our friend
And your voice still echoes in the hallways of this house
But now
It's the end We will be with you
When you're leaving
We will be with you
When you go
We will be with you
And hold you till you're quiet
It hurts to let you go We will be with you
We will be with you
We will be with you
You will stay with us
