

Lighthouse

Collabro

Where ever I am,
Where ever I go,
Whatever happens, this year I know,
That you'll be with me to the end,
When the cold sets in,
Like you told me all those years ago. You hold my hand,
Where ever I lay,
And you guide me through come what may,
Bring the silence through the noise,
I still hear your voice,
I remember what I heard you say:
I'll be your lighthouse,
Shining bright from dusk till dawn.
I'll sing a song aloud
So you'll hear a voice you know
You'll find that somehow
Where ever you are, where ever I am
Is home. Whenever I feel,
I'm all by myself,
And every word is a cry for help,
I just think of you and then,
I'm safe again.
I feel you close though you're somewhere else.
I'll be your lighthouse,
Shining bright from dusk till dawn.
I'll sing a song aloud
So you'll hear a voice you know
You'll find that somehow
Where ever you are, where ever I am
Is home. Do you remember,
What we used to say? I'll be your lighthouse,
Shining bright from dusk till dawn.
I'll sing a song aloud
So you'll hear a voice you know
You'll find that somehow
Where ever you are, where ever I am
Is home. I'll be your lighthouse,
Shining bright from dusk till dawn.
I'll sing a song aloud

So you'll hear a voice you know
You'll find that somehow
Where ever you are, where ever I am
Is home. Where ever you are, where ever I am
Is home.
