Stoic

Soulcrate Music & Wesley Eisenhauer

they growl and show their teeth
two wolves inside of me
both of 'em hungry
both of 'em tryin' to eat
at war inside of me
only one can live
only one can breathe

one wants to see me go
one wants to see me bleed
when overcome with love
when overcome with greed
strength of the fight
energy to succeed
the battle inside is sending me to my knees
hate versus love
worst enemies
that first victory
which one'll die
that's all up to me
cause the one that survives is the one that I feed the one that survives is the one that you feed love versus hate
but the one that survives is the one that you feed so loud in my head right now two wolves at war just won't settle down

I never thought up in the moment how my mood must've affected you and looking back on my actions those things don't feed my soul you know you never see it coming these moments are testing you you think you don't have it in you but one thing that I know

life's a trip I'm tripping

(they growl and show their teeth

I won't shout my anger but whisper my kindness sometimes it takes pain to remind us and if I could I wouldn't be living be playing rewinding
I don't believe our best days are behind us I am a rough approximation of all the information that's ever been provided to me and this is my interpretation I appreciate your patience I am who I decided to be yeah

but I could put my honor on a shelf dishonorable ain't nobody honest with themself if I'm really being honest, I'm a ghost, I'm a shell buying up everything that they're offering to sell and I'm aware of what I think about and grown up on running choked out the bad, I'm here living and love it yeah, no fear dearly beloved I'm speaking from the back of my throat and pit of my stomach it's never too late to change keep any promise I made even when my mood fades

I learned the hard way to think before I open my mouth
I made a map, I configured a route I sit alone often riddled with doubt hoping that one day we figure it out

no you never see it coming these moments are testing you

which one'll thrive
