Danger

Third Eye Blind

I met you at the barricade

It's fever pitch where the crowd has gathered

You said the bow was breaking

You want to get some coffee or something then? Float by the crowd that scatters

I found my people and nothing else matters

Bullhorns that feed back in stormy skies

No one listens but you're so hot when you try'Cause you've got a taste for danger

It turns you on

Just take a look in your face

I know whats goin' on

You like the taste of dangerTiptoe through the riots

Vandals laced and they're braced for action

No sense, no consequence

Green stick fracture

Bounce back at you'Cause you've got a taste for danger

Bring it on

Just take a look in your face

I know whats goin' on

You got a taste for dangerBeggars stare at the brand new sneakers

On the anarchists and celebrity speakers

These improbable days my friends

Tomorrow's mundane, all good things must endAnd the cops told the crowd they must disperse

Your pretty eyes fall as the tear gas burst

Here come the horses and we move along

And I promise I'll see you but the moment is goneYou're shocked when the spray can splatters

Deliver us from the chumps and suckers

You and me killing time in the present tense

Bound together by someone to fight against'Cause you've lost your taste for danger

I know it's gone

Just take a look in your eyes

I know that something's wrong

You've lost your taste for dangerI used to be a dissident citizen

You've got a taste for danger

I used to be a dissident citizen

You've got a taste for danger

I used to be a dissident citizen

You've got a taste for danger
