The Lions

This is the story of a rock n roll band
Who played gig after gig
Trying scam after scam
The barman never paid them
But you know he should know
That when tells them "it's just business it's not personal"
They throw there drinks on the floor
Light a match watch it roar
And say
"Hey fuck you cause I'm a rocknrolla

I've been waiting for so long for a band to come along
That plays the type of music where we all sing along
They're the diamonds in the rough
They're harder than stones
And when you other bands see them better leave 'em alone
It's not your style, your clothes you either get it or don't
So tell me tell me
Are you a rocknrolla?
