

Lowbird

Daniel Norgren

little bird, little bird sitting in my head i've been up all night trying to hear what the little bird said he said let me out in the morning and I come back at night he said let me out in the morning and I
come back at night
and I can fly all day and I come back to you with a little light well I know if I let you loose you go away but I know if I let you loose you go away ah well you're a pretty little thing but I can never trust a word you say
and the little bird said well if you don't I will never sing for you again
well if you don't I will never sing for you again but I will slap my wings and I shake the things inside your head
