Made for Lovin' You

Doug Stone

I?ve been feeling something is wrong today,
It?s been going around my head to contemplate
With this on my mind I cannot operate
I left my heart with you, I gave you everything

I?ve been known to be strong but you make me feel so weary
Was I out my mind to think this twice through, why would you do this to me baby?

And I was like don?t stop, keep it up, your love is my drug, I?m addicted to your love baby.
Why do you make me feel that I was made for loving you?
Now I?m heartbroken, hoping, I?m so stupid, can?t let go, I?m useless.
Can?t see you that I was made for loving you?

Now I?ve had the time to stop and breathe again
I?m trying to realise this is you I share,
My heart is at your door hoping you let it in,
It?s raining hard but I will never stop waiting.

I?ve been known to be strong but you do this to me baby

And I was like don?t stop, keep it up, your love is my drug, I'm addicted to your love baby.
Why do you make me feel that I was made for loving you?
Now I?m heartbroken, hoping, I?m so stupid, can?t let go, I'm useless.
Can?t see you that I was made for loving you?

Cause I, I will break laws, bust down doors, girl I left my heart with you but you still can?t see that I was made for loving you?
If I could change your mind, go back in time, see all the warm inside, maybe then you?d see I was made for loving you?

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/