

Valhalla

Grave Digger

A sultry haze hangs in the air
A lightning storm cuts through the sky
Thunder, the master, calling for the clouds
Thunder, your master, summons you to this place
Boldly tread this fearless path
Don't fear the giant's wrath
Over the mountains, the sun rises up
A castle of gold shines through the clouds
The gods awaken out of their dreams
Crossing the valley to the rainbow bridge
Valhalla, Valhalla, Valhalla, Valhalla
Shrouded from the pale cold night
In the east, you'll see its blinding light
From dusk to dawn, in peace and serenity
Follow the king and dwell with me
Boldly tread this fearless path
Don't fear the giant's wrath
Over the mountains, the sun rises up
A castle of gold shines through the clouds
The gods awaken out of their dreams
Crossing the valley to the rainbow bridge
Valhalla, Valhalla, Valhalla, Valhalla
Over the mountains, the sun rises up
A castle of gold shines through the clouds
The gods awaken out of their dreams
Crossing the valley to the rainbow bridge
Valhalla, Valhalla, Valhalla, Valhalla
