

You're Too Expensive for Me

Skunk Anansie

I feel apprehension and feeling it hard
You got me in troubles, they're kicking my heart
I followed the heat right into your bed
Now everyone hates me, I might as well be dead
Tell me how, tell me how to breathe
When your arms hold me too tightly
You're too expensive for me
I'd have to break all ties for you
Tell me how to fall out of love with you
Your face is illegal, your talk is just class
You kiss me with vengeance to sweet to unmask
Still all of our issues won't smother in bed
So our little devils run riot instead
Tell me how, tell me how to breathe
When your arms hold me too tightly
You're too expensive for me
I'd have to break all ties for you
Tell me how to fall out of love with you
