Could Tell a Love

blessthefall

Well, here go my big plans
To build up this fortress into the clouds
It's made up of my love and my heart
And my blood, we'll make it outWith the weight of the world, here I stand
With the weight of the world, here I stand
With the weight of the world, here I stand
With the weight of the world, ohAnd this is all I've got, I'll make it now or not
It's made up of my love
And I've fought so hard to fake, our lives are meant to make
It's made up of my love, made up of my love
That's how it goes, it goesWell, here goes my big plans
To build up this fortress into the clouds
It's made up of my love
And my heart and my blood, we'll make it outI won't fall down, my heart still pounds
I'm breathing now, I won't fall down
I won't fall down, my heart still pounds
I'm breathing now, I won't fall downI won't fall down, my heart still pounds
I'm breathing now, I won't fall down
I won't fall down, my heart still pounds
I'm breathing now, I won't fall downWell, here go my big plans
To build up this fortress into the clouds
It's made up of my love
And my blood and my heart, we'll make it outWe'll make it out, we'll make it out
We'll make it out, we'll make it out
We'll make it, our love out
You're not the only one
