

Breaking Free

Night Riots

It's been long enough to know it's over
I've been holding up, I've been holding on
Can we make some peace, can we find some closure
Cause you're always there, all the time, on every face I meet, on every road I drive
You're not my saviour, just someone I used to see
I am broken, something's wrong inside of me
I feel violent, like I'm dying
I feel broken, maybe I'm just breaking free
Breaking Free
Breaking Free
It's been long enough to know it's over
I've given up and now I'm moving on
I got a new friend, she's been sleeping over
Sometimes I lie awake, watch her sleep, I make believe you're next to me
You're not my saviour, just someone I used to see
I am broken, something's wrong inside of me
I feel violent, like I'm dying
I feel broken, maybe I'm just breaking free
Breaking Free
I just wanna drive all night, all alone
Focus on the pain, I wanna feel it all
I feel the violent waves crashing down
Hold me til I fall asleep, everything reminding me
You're not my saviour, just someone I used to see
I am broken, something's wrong inside of me
I feel violent, like I'm dying
I feel broken, maybe I'm just breaking free
You're not my saviour, just someone I used to see
I am broken, something's wrong inside of me
I feel violent, like I'm dying
I feel broken, maybe I'm just breaking free

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>