

The Silent Scene

The Silent Scene

Days, of our lives
Take your place
Take your time Tell the world
I'm living like I've never loved
Cause love is never enough
Til' it hurts
I wanna fall until the fireworks
Until the midnight burns Lost nights and young lives
We're living up the silent scenes from paradise
Let's get isolated in love tonight
Living it up
And finally letting go of all the things I'll never know
Let's run away inside the silent scenes tonight Days, wasted away
The mistakes
I'd never change Memory
I wonder if you remember me
Cause I could live this dream
Walk away
And maybe I could shake my ways
And let your heart take place Lost nights and young lives
We're living up the silent scenes from paradise
Let's get isolated in love tonight
Living it up
And finally letting go of all the things I'll never know
Let's run away inside the silent scenes tonight Paradise, paralyzed
Somewhere inside are the memories I hide behind
Underneath, and under me
There is a fire separated by the silent scenes
Like atmosphere, you keep me here
Under the pressure where I never have to fight my fears
We spend our days, where everything fades
Except the distance between where my heart remains Lost nights and young lives
We're living up the silent scenes from paradise
Let's get isolated in love tonight
Living it up
And finally letting go of all the things I'll never know
Cause there's a world in me that doesn't need reality
Let's run away inside the silent scenes tonight
