

Upon Velvet

Vonrenzo

This is no time to veil for a lie...
Why don't you know, nothing matters to me?
There's something wrong but I can never tell
Just let me once fall from your sky
Then I will crawl into you
Upon velvet
I tell myself, I tell myself,
It's only me
Everything will be alright
Twenty-five years and nothing to show
Maybe someday you'll think about me
When well worn wounds haven't healed
Kiss me with tongue
Cause lately... I've been so alive
Then I can crawl into you
Upon velvet
I tell myself, I tell myself, only me, everything will be alright
It's your turn to bleed, she says to me... you should leave...
Even though it feels so right...
If you're begging need, then it falls between... you and me...
Love was a line... Is she gonna find... I'm going nowhere...
