

Clair De Lune

...And You Will Know Us by the Trail of Dead

Well the mood settled down You know all the movies I've seen How I watched all of them You never did understand Can't figure how you never did Once the movie hit town That it conquers the soul Well the moon is so gold Like that very first moment we kissed But you never will go far In a Japanese car Just thinking of the things that we've missed ...What good are promises If nobody honours them? And so we never ask 'why?' And don't talk if we meet on the field Don't say anything nice That I let it all go Even if you never did. Because I want you to know
