Your Way With Words Is Through Silence!

A Day to Remember

If affection spoke louder than words, you'd make me deaf by now
You make it seem so easy to love me for who I really amIt'd break my heart, if we fell apart.
It'd be so hard to let you go
It'd break my heart, if we fell apart.
It'd be so hard to watch you goSo let's not dwell on all those things we should of said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off of my floor (off my floor)It's so crazy how it'd make my week just to hear them mention your name
Is it so hard to understand how you have my right in the palm of your hand?You're first and foremost, you're always on my mind
Through the songs that I'll sing I'll give you my heartSo let's not dwell on all those things we should of said
As piece by piece I can pick you up off of my floor (off my floor)
