Imperfection

This Bike Is a Pipe Bomb

I'm in love with imperfection, some how i know that you are too. that's how I know you wont be offended when i tell you that's the reason I'm in love with you. so what ya gonna do today? the same thing as yesterday? sit around and decay into a new highway? all of your lovers are gone. all of your pride is too. you will always have the lonely shy boy, cry boy, with you. whatever happened to you? you just dont smile at me anymore. it never used to be like that. we used to have the time of our lives just goofing around. no matter how much you change i still love you. you're my hometown.
