

Where's Summer B?

Ben Folds Five

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I'd like to tell you, like to tell you
Tell you everything
'Cause nothing changes, ever changes
Doesn't seem the same these days Dave's been a mess since Cheryl left
Just sits at home and beats back death
And Beth still wears his stupid dress There goes Joe Caparo again with Darren's girlfriend
They're asking where ya been, like I know
Where ya been? Hey Summer, where ya been? I tried to tell you, tried to tell you
Took a little bit too long
And now your phone is disconnected
And your shit's out on the lawn The Hardback Cafe closed down
Now we got office town
You shoulda stuck around There go Ross and Frank again, they're holding hands
Asking where ya been, like I know
Where ya been? Hey summer, where ya been? I could take a train or fly away
Maybe write a book and change my name
I could settle down There goes Joe Caparo again, hey that's Darren's girlfriend
Ross and Frank are holding hands
They've been asking where ya been
Hey Summer, where ya been? And I
Could smoke a bowl with Caleb or fly away
Or settle down, but
Hey Summer where ya been?
