

Left Behind

VNV Nation

So afraid to open your eyes
You know too well that which awaits you
Something undefined there in the half light
The demon withoutThe demon inside to plague and torment you
Feeling so sure, feeling so uncertain
That something is wrong
Everyone's gone and you have been left behind
Everyone left the demon insideDo you still hear their laughter?
So hard to describe
You never forget the faces that haunt you
Awake or asleep, I know you can't tellUnable to sleep, unable to fight
Unwilling to wake to open your eyes
To face your oppressor
Still you go on convinced it will endCan you remember
A day when it was not, not like this?
Unsure of yourself, unsure of your thoughts
Unable to know if what you think
Is right or wrongStill you go on convinced it will end
Like someone pushes a blade through your mind
There on the edge where no one will find you
Still hearing them laugh
Is there no light at the end for you?Why is everything wrong?Here I am
Here I am with these words
Trying to say something I can't
Something I can't tell youNothing is wrong
The demons they have left you
You were not left behind
You were not left behindSo open your eyes
So open your eyesUnable to sleep, unable to fight
Unwilling to wake, please open your eyes
For here I stand
Unable to tell you what I am trying to sayNothing is wrong
Please open your eyes
Nothing is wrong
You were not left behind
