

Unspoken

Crematory

Unspoken names never reach my heart again
Unspoken feelings no one miss your life You see, you hear, you run And you awaken and don't know
If you're sleeping
Overrun and compromised
By the dreams of instant future Unspoken names never reach my heart again
Unspoken feelings no one miss your life You feel, you think, you cry Disillusioned and deceived
By the goals once pondered and
Betrayed and banned
By the ones, once trust Unspoken names never reach my heart again
Unspoken feelings no one miss your life Unspoken names never reach my heart again
Unspoken feelings no one miss your life Pursued and struck
Down by the lies that feast upon you
Lost your virginity
At the hands of space and time Unspoken names never reach my heart again
Unspoken feelings no one miss your life Unspoken names never reach my heart again
Unspoken feelings no one miss your life
