

Poison

Ben Schuller

My heart is breaking from this overdose
But I still take a drink, I still take a drink
I've seen the symptoms but I lose control
My senses fall asleep, I know I'm in too deepBecause I try to say no
But I know that I won't stop caving again and again
I'm addicted to this venomous pretendYou're poison, but I can't let you go
The taste of your lips is all I know x2I've tried so many different antidotes
They weren't strong enough, I wasn't strong enough
I guess I'm holding on to what it was before
But you can't rewind in love, I just can't give it upBecause I try to say no
But I know that I won't stop caving again and again
I'm addicted to this venomous pretendYou're poison, but I can't let you go
The taste of your lips is all I know
x2Now I know that I need to say goodbye to start again
So I promise tonight is the last night I let you inMy heart is breaking from this overdose
But I still take a drinkYou're poison, but I can't let you go
The taste of your lips is all I know x4
