

The Masochist

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Sad songs get me so down
Goddamn I love 'em to death
The sadder, the better, the better
The redder eye
And all that jazz Here's hoping for a heart attack
Or 'til at least I bleed
Who said I love it when the sun comes out?
I'm always praying for rain Just call me the masochist In the blink of an eye or a flick of
The switch Avoid eye contact and look down
That's easy for me
Everybody says I'm negative
But they should shut up and let me be I think I got this all figured out
Give me a reason to scream
It's all bottled up and waiting to get out
I never run out of steam Just call me the masochist In the blink of an eye or a flick of The switch Just call me the masochist Your're often nice, I'm always pissed Just call me the masochist In the blink of an eye or a flick of
The switch Just call me the masochist You're on thin ice, I'm always pissed
