Genius

Inara George

Everybody wants to be a genius
Youre not the only one
With all things that you might do
Which one of them will you get to?
Tomorrow when you wake up
Then youll show themNobody wants to break your heart
You do it on your own
Theres nothing wrong with you today
Nothing you had that they took away
But all the time youve waited
For what is owed to youYou want to fight, they fight you blue
You want to lie, who will lie with you
Youre the only one, waiting for a sign
So youre the only one
So youre the only oneEveryones had some situation
Keep it to yourself
Theres no need to answer questions
Your lies have spoiled two confessions
And all the time you waited
Wont come back to you
