

Genius

Inara George

Everybody wants to be a genius
You're not the only one
With all things that you might do
Which one of them will you get to?
Tomorrow when you wake up
Then you'll show them
Nobody wants to break your heart
You do it on your own
There's nothing wrong with you today
Nothing you had that they took away
But all the time you've waited
For what is owed to you
You want to fight, they fight you blue
You want to lie, who will lie with you
You're the only one, waiting for a sign
So you're the only one
So you're the only one
Everyone's had some situation
Keep it to yourself
There's no need to answer questions
Your lies have spoiled two confessions
And all the time you waited
Won't come back to you
