

Samba Nova

Stone Temple Pilots

Hard time is never long enough
To keep my head afloat and my feet are stuck in the mud again
I'm getting old and my money's been spent Tryin' hard was never good enough I've got a lot to learn and she's walkin' right out the door again
I'm torn in two and I don't see the end You can always buy a new lie
When yours is finally over
Either way you'll find a new life
When yours is finally over Don't think I ever changed at all, my dear
And you'll see when I'm right and here's when I'm wrong, but still I kick myself in the face once again Sometimes I think that I can kill the world
If just for a day but I'd just be stuck with myself again
And I don't think I wanna be my only friend You can always buy a new lie
When yours is finally over
Either way you'll find a new life
When yours is finally over

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>