Throwstar

Fireside

Something is missing around here
Surrounded by tragical memories
That pushes me out of the too small bed
In a too small housePieces of the shelter is missing
Waving with the white flag, no answer returned
Mad at the know not whos fault
Hoping that youre okayWhy should you be there, to spread it out again
Trapped inside your home
Youre trapped inside your home
Such a nice place, it's just a bit too small
Trapped inside your home
Youre trapped inside your home
Such a nice placeBelieving that its gonna be all the same
Havent realized what damage is done
Waiting for the phone to ring
Like it used to, in the middle of the nightFinding hidden alcohol in the closet
But ignored the warning
Your chance was taken away
Im hoping that youre okayWhy should you be there, to spread it out again
Trapped inside your home
Youre trapped inside your home
Such a nice place, it's just a bit too small
Trapped inside your home
Youre trapped inside your home
Such a nice placeNever satisfied
Nothing is ever too good
Even if the pieces fall right
You spread it out againNever satisfied
Nothing is ever too good
Even if the pieces fall right
Even if the pieces fall right
You spread it out again

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/