Nuclear Attack

Gary Moore

No, no, noOut on the streets they're all living in fear You can hear their hearts pound as the moment draws near One push of a button is all it would take to dress the world in black One fault in the system, a fatal mistake And you'll never come back from a nuclear attackThe Russians are ready, the U.S. is armed They try and tell us there's no cause for alarm If you think you can live like a rat in a sewer Might stand a chance to stay alive No one can say, no one knows for sure Just who will survive a nuclear attackYou ain't never coming back, no, from a nuclear attack Oh, no no no no no, yeah ohOh, yeah, look out Out on the streets they're all living in fear You can feel their hearts pound as the moment draws near You won't know what's hit you, it'll happen so fast Won't be the time to even scream You'll just be burned up by the heat of the blast A thing of the past in a nuclear attackNuclear attack, you ain't never coming back Ain't never coming back, no no no no From a nuclear attack, oh
