Black Crows

Jenny Franck

Black crows, big wings
Fly by and sing
They had me wrong
They died, I wonI found beautiful in your mind
Let's fast forward to the end of time
I've been everywhere you don't believe
What I know isn't all you seeSomething's holding me down
Stuck inside me just spinning around
I can't escape from me
This is all I see
Each time I fall down is harder on meStuck here waiting around for you to see me here
I can't be what you dreamed
I'm aware that you recognize the best of sides
Still I sit and I wonder whyI want to show you how much it's not over
We're just getting started here
They keep rearranging, our plans
They keep changing
Get ready to face your fearSomething's holding me down
Stuck inside me just spinning around
I can't escape from me
This is all I see
Each time I fall down is harder on me
Something's holding me down it's just making me drown
Can't escape it's just spinning me round and around
This is all I see, all that I'll ever be
Each time I fall down is harder on me
Each time I fall down is harder to breath
Each time I fall down it breaks underneathBlack crows, big wings
Fly by and sing
They had me wrong
They died, I won
