

Crying My Heart Out for You

Ella Fitzgerald

All my dreams are over; now I'm wide awake
With a lonesome feeling and a constant ache
Livin' with my memories just for old time's sake
Crying my heart out for you
Hope you'll be more tender in your next affair
Trust you'll think of me, dear, when you've time to spare
Praying you'll be happy is my only prayer
Crying my heart out for you
Your heart may ache you, friends may forsake you
Sometimes it happens that way
But I'm still for you, always adore you
I love you, I love you; what more can I say?
I was just a scholar, made for you to teach
Searching for a true love, one I couldn't reach
Now I'm just a pebble on a lonely beach
Crying my heart out for you

Songwriters

CLAUDE HOPKINGS, J.C. JOHNSONPublished by

Lyrics Â© THE SONGWRITERS GUILD OF AMERICA Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>