All The Promises

Skye

Such a shame, do you sit and wonder?
Was it just a waste of time?
We broke the chain and left the cross behind
You can keep the frame
I don't want the part that's timeI don't need you to talk to me
Or cast a light on this broken dream
With all that we've seen, beginning to end
All I believed, all the promises
Who's to blame? I won't point the finger
You can put me first in line
So love's a stain on a shirt like old red wine
But just like pain, all will fade in timeI don't need you to comfort me
Or shine a light on this shattered dream
With all that we'll be, never again
All we believed, all the promisesI don't need you to talk to me
Please cast a light on this broken dream
With all that we've seen, beginning to end
All I believed, all the promisesI don't need you to talk to me
Or cast a light on this broken dream
With all that we've seen, beginning to end
All I believed, all the promises
I don't need you to comfort me
Or shine a light on this shattered dream
With all that we'll be, never again
All we believed, all the promisesI don't need you
I believed all the promises
