

Different Situation

Athenaeum

He'll take you home and then write a song about it

He's so alone, you'd never think to doubt it

He is the tricky kind and she's gonna fall into his covers

He's gonna search his mind, he will find a way to love herIn his mind, he's written every line, he just recycles
them all the time

It's a message that sweeps the nation, same words, different situationHe'll make demands, at first you'll be so willing

But take command, your pride is not worth killing

He's gonna make it hard and twist your words until they crumble

It's a work of art, the way you jump at all he mumblesIn his mind, he's written every line, he just recycles
them all the time

It's a message that sweeps the nation, same words, different situationAnd if you get stuck with a millionaire, you can always come home

There'll be a place for you at a table for two if you ever feel aloneIn his mind, he's written every line, he just recycles them all the time

It's a message that sweeps the nation, same words, different situationIt's gonna take a while to sew the wounds that he had opened

But you're a lucky child, so all you do is keep on hoping
