Afterdark

Blaqk Audio

I wanted to help you
Escape from the day
I couldnt speak to you
It might hurt my raisers heartI couldnt speak to you
For what could I say
These words seem obscene now
In the light to the raiser's heartWell the words arent coming, no the words arent coming
By day they are far too stark
Well the words mean nothing til they turn to fire
By who we become after darkYou know we have nothing
By silence of day
I couldnt speak to you
Ive nothing to say to youWell the words arent coming, no the words arent coming
By day they are far too stark
Well the words mean nothing til they turn to fire
By who we become after darkWell the words arent coming, no the words arent coming
By day they are far too stark
Well the words mean nothing, but there's no questioning
Just who we become after darkYou know, you know
Weve got no reason to speak
Come the sun
When its done
Weve no reason to speakWell the words arent coming, no the words arent coming
By day they are far too stark
Well the words mean nothing, til they turn to fire
By who we become, ohWell the words arent coming, no the words arent coming
By day they are far too stark
Well the words mean nothing, but theres no questioning
Just who we become after dark
