Provide

Thornley

So who's gonna keep your babies warm
When you're in pain?
And who's gonna raise the canopy
In case it rains?
Let me provide, I wanna provide for youHow do you wipe away all of those tears
And go on smiling?
How do you stand in the face of so much fear
And keep on trying?
Let me provide, I wanna provide what's trueAnd it's the least I can do for youI've been sleepwalking for miles
It's time to wake up
It's the least I can do
It's the least I can do for youSo who's gonna sing you lullabies
Before you sleep?
And who's gonna help you dry your eyes
In case you weep?
Let me provide, I can provide for youGive me something to wrap my arms around
That's still worth holding
Is it so hard to open up your heart
When your arms are folded?
Let me provide, I can provide for youI've been sleepwalking for miles
And it's time to wake up
Well it's the least I can do
It's the least I can do for you.
