

Love In the Right Hands

Clay Crosse

You've been hurt before, lost many wars
And you realize the danger you're in without Him in your heart
To make a new start, you're taking a chance you'll get hurt again
Don't be afraid, it don't have to be that way, remember Love in the right hands
Is like sunlight burnin' through the mornin' sky
Love in the right hands
Is a powerful thing, so put your hand in His He'll be there for you, He'll help you get through
When the pressures in this world surround you
You know it will rain but He'll soften the pain
You'll find shelter with His arms around you
Don't be afraid, have faith in Him, remember Love in the right hands
Is like sunlight burnin' through the mornin' sky
Love in the right hands
Is a powerful thing, so put your hand in His I would never lie
I promise He will never let you down or make you cry
Oh no, you'll always be together
He'll be true to you forever, all your life, remember Love in the right hands
Is like sunlight burnin' through the mornin' sky
Love in the right hands
Is a powerful thing, so put your hand in His

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>