

Children of Fate

September Mourning

Can you see
Can you breathe
I can feel your heart beating
Does it hurt
Does it sting
I can feel your soul bleeding
Broken glass
Shattered life
Dark reflections of the light
Your final right
I stole it from you
Softly
Gently
The tide pulls you under in echoes of thunder
Hopeless
You're reaching for nothing
Nothing
We are children of fate
Won't bend we won't break
As we burn through the world
We are children of fate
And we are one
Harvest moon
Crimson stars
Fall like angels in the dark
Open eyes
Change of heart
Now this is where you belong
Another life
Another corpse
Another time borrowed
Your final right I gave it to you
Softly
Gently
The tide pulls you under in echoes of thunder
Hopeless
You're reaching for nothing
Nothing
We are children of fate

Won't bend we won't break
As we burn through the world
We are children of fate
And we are one
Futures written on the faces of the damned
We will rise through the fall of them
Answer the call for them
The helpless
The hopeless
The worthless
We will rise
Softly
Gently
Th tide pulls you under in echoes of thunder
Hopeless
Nothing
We are children of fate
Won't bend we won't break
As we burn through the world
And we are one
